

The PMG Christmas Lecture 2016 with Rob Law MBE.

Please join us at 6:00pm on Tuesday, December 6th at the Roland Levinsky Building, Plymouth University, Drake Circus, Plymouth PL4 8AA.

The PMG, in association with Plymouth University and Santander Corporate & Commercial, is pleased to be holding its second Annual Christmas Lecture. Following on from the success of last year's event, we welcome Rob Law MBE, one of Britain's most well-known entrepreneurs, as our guest Christmas Lecturer for 2016. Rob is best known as the founder of and director of Magmatic Ltd, the company behind the much-loved children's suitcase and luggage brand Trunki which is made here in Plymouth by PMG member, Magma Moulding (which is part of the Magmatic group of companies).

The company is forging a new retail category of Children Travel Products and offers a whole range of innovative solutions that help families on the go.

Magmatic has been trading for 10 years, now employing 74 people and was named SME of the Year at the National Business Awards in 2012.

Rob trained in Product Design and his early career saw him working in Taiwan, New York and London before launching the Trunki brand in 2006.

Rob is a passionate business speaker with a fresh approach to leadership, instilling innovative thinking across his organisation, as well a committed champion of British manufacturing and design rights.

Outline Programme:

- Guests to arrive from 6:00pm onwards
- Welcome by Bill Murphy, Chairman of the PMG at 6:30pm
- Guest speaker Rob Law MBE
- Wine and canapes served afterwards in the University's Crosspoint zone
